The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Curran.

Curran discloses a device comprising: a chin-up device (10) electrometric elements (14) and a sling (16)

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Curran.

In regard to claim 3 the examiner notes that it is known and that it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to manufacture the sling/belt of Curran of fabric material which has absorbent properties. Many belt also include foam linings, a notoriously well-known addition to belt means in the art.

The claims fail to provide proper antecedent basis for "chin-up/or dip exercise equipment" in claim 1, line 5.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Note the overall device of Nurge Fig. 6, Chen Fig. 2, and Gailey Fig. 1.
